NATURE NURTURES 2021

Workshop Summary:

This Nature Nurtures 2021 session is for educators interested in making their practice more holistic, integrative, and outdoors. InDiGO will offer a unique approach for designing integrative projects that simultaneously achieve academic, artistic, and SEL goals by discovering nature's wonders within and all around us.

This workshop is an opportunity to break down walls within our own minds as educators that falsely compartmentalize different kinds of learning. Our goal is to return the motivation to learn to its rightful place: within, by beginning with a truly student-centered, holistic, and whole-child approach.

The goal of this workshop is for each educator to walk away inspired to guide their students in an integrative project that they are intrinsically motivated to do!
