

Baltimore's Sustainability and Resiliency Community Forum

Date: Wednesday, April 20th 4:00 – 6:00 PM (During the monthly Sustainability Commission)

Purpose: Provide Baltimore City residents updates on sustainability and resiliency actions taking place across the city, outline progress on implementing strategies and actions in the 2019 Sustainability Plan, the current Climate Action Plan Update process, and the commitment to sustainability, resiliency and environmental justice in Mayor Scott's Term 1 Action Plan. The Community forum will also be a time to illustrate how the administrations' Sustainability and Resiliency Subcabinet is helping the city reach urban sustainability and resiliency goals.

Agenda

- Welcome and Introductions (Mia Blom)
- Updates (Miriam Avins)
 - Commission Updates
 - Office of Sustainability Updates
- Earth Day Happenings in Baltimore (Mia Blom)
- Introduction of Sustainability Commissioners Moderating the Panel (Miriam Avins)
- Introduction of Christopher Shorter (Mia Blom)
- Sustainability and Resiliency Priorities in the Mayor's Term 1 Action Plan (Christopher Shorter)
- Sustainability and Resiliency Panel – Attendees will hear from city leaders and Sustainability Commissioners. Each panelist will highlight how their work and the activities led by their respective agencies or organizations across Baltimore to meet urban sustainability goals. Residents are encouraged to come raise questions and learn how you can support sustainability goals.
 - Baltimore City Health Department, Dr. Letitia Dzirasa, Health Commissioner
 - Department of Public Works, Jason Mitchell, Director
 - Department of Housing and Community Development, Nicole Hart, Deputy
 - Sustainability Commissioners –
- Community Polling
- Public Comment and Questions for the Panel